

MURDERER PUTS END TO OWN LIFE

REV. CARMICHAEL DIES IN HOSPITAL AT CARTHAGE, ILL.

Ends Existence by Cutting Throat—Left Confession to Sheriff Telling How He Murdered Browning in Church Last Tuesday.

Keokuk, Iowa, Jan. 11.—John H. Carmichael, murderer of half-witted Gideon Browning at Rattle Run, Mich. last Tuesday, died at 1 p. m. to day at the county hospital at Carthage, Ill., after cutting his throat.

He left a confession addressed to Sheriff Waggoner at Port Huron, Mich. In the opening sentence he declares he is guilty and as a reason for the crime says: "The man had such a hypnotic influence over me that something had to be done."

The confession recites several instances of alleged hypnotic influence of Browning over him and the preacher's inability to resist, though he says he tried to do so. Carmichael alleges that under his hypnotic influence he accompanied Browning to Port Huron, where, acting under the spell he alleges he purchased a hatchet. Afterward they rode together to South Park, where Browning got out of the buggy to take the car, taking the hatchet with him. Later, Carmichael says, Browning arranged with him about a wedding and arranged to meet the preacher at Port Huron. When he met Browning on the road he was alone and in explanation said the others would come later. He and Browning went to the church, where they built a fire in the stoves. Carmichael kept on the lookout for the others of the expected party until Browning laughed and told him there was to be no wedding and that he had made the arrangement just for fun and that he would show what he could do. Carmichael then goes on and tells how Browning ordered him to raise and lower his hands and that he obeyed, being unable to resist. He saw Browning holding a weapon of some kind, he says, and grabbed for it. It was the hatchet purchased at Port Huron. The confession continued:

"I asked what he meant to do with that. He said: 'I'll show you,' and from his overcoat pockets drew out a knife in each hand. He came at me striking with both hands, while I backed across the church down a side aisle and across the front, but I did not dare turn about to open the front door. Then I threw the hatchet and struck him and he fell. I then turned to open the door, when he grabbed me by the leg and threw me down, where my hands were upon the hatchet. There was a desperate struggle, in which I used the hatchet until he laid quiet and still. I cannot tell all that happened after that. I was wild to dispose of the body. I was in a horrible terror, so I began pulling off his garments that I might drag the body away somewhere and hide it. Then my eyes fell upon one of these knives; I flew into a rage and began to cut with it, when he woke up and grabbed me again. Then for a while I used that hatchet until I was sure he was dead. Then I saw the fire was not enough to make the stove pipe red nearly to the elbow, so I grabbed him by the feet and dragged him down there and cut him to pieces, putting in each part as it was dismembered; then I began to put the garments into the front stove, when I remembered it had a poor draft and the things might not burn. Then I saw that my clothing was torn and bloody, while some of his were yet whole and I exchanged and then took all but a few of mine and piled them in along with the body. I then went up nearly to the tunnel station, where I turned my rig about and started it on back track. My big coat hid my torn and bloody garments until I got to Chicago, where I purchased others. I am tired of trying to hide, though I have succeeded in eluding the detectives so far. If you get this while I am yet alive come and get me. I shall not be far from Carthage, Ill. Tell of Her Life.

Auburn, N. Y., Jan. 11.—Mrs. Sarah T. Browning, widow of Gideon Browning, talked of her life and of her dead husband to a representative of the Associated Press here to night. She said she and Browning were married in West Bloomfield, N. Y., Feb. 12, 1894; that a year later they moved to Adrian, Mich., but in the fall returned to West Bloomfield, and later went to Canandaigua. Because of Browning's drinking and abuse, she says, they separated in September, 1907, she coming to Auburn to live with her sister. A year ago Browning came to Auburn, made threats and denied he had a wife in Michigan, but she refused to go back with him. She told about his selling their property in Canandaigua appropriating all of the money and going back to Michigan. Mrs. Browning said she never knew Rev. J. H. Carmichael.

Carmichael's Death. Carmichael's death was almost as horrible as that of his victim. When he arrived at the boarding house he gave the name of John Elder and as he said he was a woodworker and had come here to start a factory, no suspicion was attached to his presence. He went to a Catholic priest and declaring he himself was a Catholic asked the influence of members of the church in helping him in business. Going about town in and out of the boarding house he gave no indications of brooding over the murder, although all this time he must have thought about it, for the written confession had been prepared and was concealed among his belongings in his room. Although so far as known he was still beyond the reach of detectives, the crisis came this morning, when about 7:30 he informed Miss Hughes that as no satisfactory site for his factory could be found here he intended to go to Bowen, Ill. He then went into the back yard. As he delayed coming back and had not returned at train time to get his suit case, the landlady instituted a search. A passing teamster was hailed and we, with others, joined the searchers. But Carmichael already by his own hand, so far as was able, had expiated his crime. In an old wooden shed back of the house he had cut his throat with a pocket knife. The dying man was carried into the house, but he never recovered consciousness. Every effort was made to revive him, but he died at 1 this afternoon.

His clothing and suit case were searched and two letters were found, one addressed to his wife at Rattle Run, which was sealed and remains unopened. The other was the confession which was addressed to the sheriff at Port Huron, Mich.

Carmichael arrived here over the Burlington. On inquiring for a boarding house he was directed to that managed by Miss Hughes. He appeared in a happy frame of mind and discussed freely with everyone his plans for coming here and starting a factory. Going carefully about town he inspected all business places. His keen interest in Carthage aroused interest in his project. Even up to the moment when he suddenly said he had to leave town there was no token of any mental perplexity he might have been suffering.

At an inquest to night the coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide. Carmichael's suit case arrived Saturday morning from Burlington, having been re-checked from Donnellson, Iowa. This indicated that Carmichael had gone through Burlington to Donnellson and thence to Burlington Friday, allowing his suit case to follow him. It is thus probable the minister left Chicago Wednesday afternoon or that night, arriving Wednesday evening or Thursday and going to Donnellson. It is thought he was originally bound for Kansas City, but changed his mind. Late to night the sheriff decided to open Carmichael's letter to his wife and found it was practically a duplicate of the confession.

Dr. Blender, who attended Carmichael, said death was caused by exposure to cold and that the wound in the throat was not sufficient to cause death. Judging from the time he left to the time he was found in the shed it would appear Carmichael might have been lying in the bitter cold with his throat cut for over two hours.

IOWA LEGISLATURE. Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 11.—Senator James A. Smith of Mitchell county, presiding in the senate and representative Fred H. Hunter of Polk county in the house, called to order the two branches of the general assembly today. Complete organization was effected and committees appointed by each house to notify the other and Governor Garst that it was ready for any communications they desired to submit. The house passed a concurrent resolution for a joint session at two o'clock this afternoon to hear the governor's message, but upon conference with the senate it was agreed the communication from the governor will not be read until Tuesday. In the house Harding of Woodbury county was elected temporary chairman, and he presided until the election of Guy A. Feely of Block Hawk county, to the office of speaker.

TWENTY-SIX KILLED. Zeigler, Ill., Jan. 11.—Of the 28 workmen in the mine owned by Jos. Letter, 26 were killed by the explosion yesterday, according to official information given out at the mining office tonight. The last of the bodies was recovered today. The cause of the disaster is not yet determined.

STATE COMMITTEE WILL CONVENE

Republican Organization Will Meet Today in Springfield—Speculation as a Probable Action of Party Representatives is Rife—Members of Committee.

When Republican members of the general assembly meet at the state house this morning they will be conscious of the gathering beneath them of the central power of the party, the state central committee, says the Springfield News.

The meeting of the committee and the gathering here of the party in state and county is not expected to make any impression upon the half breeds.

It may have the effect of whipping public sentiment into shape more rapidly.

It may place the bolters still further outside the pale of their party and stamp them still deeper with the infamy of their political treason.

It is understood that the central committee meeting will be brief and very dignified and as salvy as possible to make it without surrender of dignity.

Will Hear the Explanations. The committee will hear the situation explained and will pass a resolution expressing its sentiment that all Republicans go into caucus, there to thresh out their differences and agree as to future action and policies.

It is not believed that the committee's advice will be followed. Indeed there is danger that it may make the bolters still hotter and remove them further from their party's prohibiting apron strings.

The only and the first rift in the clouds is the increasing concern of some of the Shurtleff Republicans in Hopkins.

To the present time they have been apparently very indifferent to the interests of the junior senator. They have treated as a bluff the Band of Hope declaration that they would remain out of the senatorial caucus. If Shurtleff remained out of the speakership caucus.

Shurtleff a Little Uneasy. The Shurtleff men remained out and now are beginning to suspect that perhaps the Band of Hope were in earnest.

Accordingly there is more concern about Hopkins. Shurtleff himself is said to day to be decidedly uneasy. He has been looked upon as somewhat careless of the senator's future, but now that the future is somewhat belimed and belocuded he is considering ways and means of removing said clouds and mists.

Are in Tactical Position. The advantageous position in which many of the Band of Hope find themselves renders the situation the more critical. Many of them come from districts that were carried by Foss. They are standing by the theory that they have been instructed how to vote by the people of their districts and that the total vote of the state at large is not their guiding star to the manger of the new senator.

It is understood therefore that the Shurtleff Republicans have made it known that they want a caucus on the senatorship and that it must be held without regard to the present conditions as to the recount; in other words, that the governor's friends must allow the senator to be elected and take their chances with his enemies on the recount.

While the proposition is preposterous on its face it opens a way to compromise and there is some hope today that the rift may widen.

Members of Committee. The members of the state committee who are called to meet at Springfield today to take action on the deadlock are:

MARYLAND'S VOTE. Annapolis, Md., Jan. 11.—Maryland's electoral vote was cast at Annapolis today. Bryan got six and Taft two.

INAUGURAL BALL DISCUSSION

HOUSE OBJECTS TO USE OF PENSION BUILDING.

Members in Charge of Measure Unable to Rally Forces and No Action Can Be Taken for Two Weeks—Tillman Central Figure in Senate.

Washington, Jan. 11.—After undergoing a stormy discussion in the house to day resolutions authorizing the granting of permits to the committee on inaugural ceremonies the use of the pension office building for the inaugural ball, was compelled to go over for two weeks before final action can be taken upon it. As it stands the section relating to the pension building was stricken out and a further amendment made refusing permission to extend overhead wires into the structure.

It was manifest from the outset the majority of the members present was opposed to the pension office proposition and Smith of Michigan, having the measure in charge, was unable to rally his forces and in consequence was beaten at every turn.

Sims of Tennessee, was the most vigorous in his opposition. "Let's not dance over the claims of old soldiers," he pleaded. If, he said, the ball really was in honor of the president, he would not make complaint, but he declared "it is a dance to make money." He believed Taft would feel a pang of sorrow while in the ball room "where ladies will exhibit their beautiful forms and display magnificent pearls and diamond necklaces, when he knows that possibly they may destroy valuable records." He maintained that if there was to be a ball in honor of the president it should be at the government's expense.

Addressing himself to the subject of inaugurations generally, Clark of Missouri, said that four years ago a "solemn promise" was given request for the building would not again be made on the strength of that promise the necessary permission was given.

He favored a six year term for the president with ineligibility for re-election; holding of the election on the first Monday in August and inauguration of the president the first Monday in October. The new congress, he contended, should be elected and started on its work on the day of the inauguration. There was no sense, he declared, in imperiling the life of the new president by requiring him to stand in the open on March 4 and deliver his address. He favored return to the custom of inaugurating the president in the house of representatives.

He bitterly attacked the policy of loaning government buildings and said that until it was stopped there would be no auditorium in Washington. Clark provoked great laughter by saying he attended the inaugural ball of President Roosevelt and never felt sadder in his life except at a funeral, as he saw but few that he knew there.

McMillan of New York, Olcott of New York, and Landis of Indiana, led in support of the measure. Landis contended it was a national function and inaugural expenses should be paid by congress which, he said, had been shifted by it onto the shoulders of the citizens of Washington who were compelled to conduct the ball in order to be partially reimbursed.

Various other measures were considered and passed, all relating exclusively to the District of Columbia.

Senate. Tillman was the central figure of attention in the senate to day, occupying almost an hour with his speech in reply to the president's charges concerning his action in attempting to acquire by purchase some Oregon timber land originally held as a railroad grant, while advocating litigation by the department of justice to compel their sale.

The senate passed a bill appropriating $90,000 for the purchase of the Sequoia grove of big trees in California. Recommendation by the committee on finance and judiciary favoring increase of salary of the president to $100,000, and vice president and speaker of the house was referred to the committee on appropriations.

Being greeted by applause from the galleries when he entered the senate chamber to day to reply to President Roosevelt's strictures in respect to his connection with the Oregon timber land transactions, Tillman proceeded to read his prepared remarks with little attempt at oratory effect. In addition to his speech, Tillman had prepared other brief remarks which he read.

"It has been expected and desired," he said, "that having made my own defense I would turn my batteries of my assault. I do not feel that my strength is sufficient for the double task of my physicians have warned me of overtaxing myself. One of the truest and best sentiments in English literature is this from Tennyson: "Selling another will never make one's self clean."

"The president lives in a glass house with even a glass floor in it, and should remember the old adage. He has exerted all the power of the government to destroy me, but I feel I stand unscathed because if all other arguments fail to convince men the character for rectitude, truthfulness and honesty which I have builded in sixty-one years of my life would at least be my bulwark. Men who have always been clean and honorable do not suddenly become liars and hypocrites at 61 without any necessity.

"Later on this session it is my purpose to devote some time to bringing Theodore Roosevelt face to face with his true self and let the people of the United States see what character of a man they have been so bowed down to. For the present I content myself with applying to him this quotation from Spenser's Faery Queen: 'The ranges throughout the whole world, neither is there any that can restrain him. Of late he has grown especially presumptuous and pestilent, barking at and biting all alike whether they are blameworthy or innocent. None are free from his attacks. He spares neither the learned nor the gentle poor, but rends and tears without regard of person, reason or time.'

When Tillman concluded his remarks there was no further outburst of applause, the vice president having admonished the occupants of the galleries against making such demonstrations. Tillman was congratulated by a number of Democratic senators.

The senate took recess ten minutes in order the visitors might leave the gallery without disturbing the proceedings and being called to order transacted its routine business.

Capital Notes. The house committee on rivers and harbors again to day failed to reach conclusion to report a general rivers and harbors bill this session. Total contributions for the earthquake sufferers through the American Red Cross society aggregate $670,000, of which about $60,000 came in to date aggregate $540,000. Representative Keifer of Ohio, to day introduced a bill authorizing the secretary of war to appoint a board of engineers to make a preliminary location and survey and to prepare plans for a ship canal connecting Lake Erie and the Ohio river on the line of the Miami and Erie canal from Toledo to Cincinnati.

DAY OF "FEEDING" Taft Attends Barbecue and Also Feast of "Possum and Taters" at Augusta.

Augusta, Ga., Jan. 11.—Auspicious "feeding" was the principal occupation today of President-elect Taft. He did full justice this afternoon to the barbecue of Charles S. Bohler, given on his extensive cotton plantation, and tonight faced a spread of "Possum and Taters," besides a menu of heavy dimensions, as guest of the local bar association.

Taft's after dinner speech was a medley of interesting comments on law and legal profession. He described the attractions of a lawyer's life and of the life of a judge, and expressed regret on leaving that life. He spoke of the importance of the lawyer to the community in which he lived, of necessity of enforcing the law and of dire results of laxness in this direction.

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE. Startling Facts Told by Secretary Wilson.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Behind closed doors to day Secretary of Agriculture Wilson told the house committee on agriculture some startling facts about the fight against foot and mouth disease which has existed for several weeks among certain herds of cattle in Michigan, Pennsylvania and Maryland. "It is believed human beings have developed the disease, if not from serum for vaccination in which disease is believed to have been imported from abroad, then by eating meat of diseased cattle."

ILLINOIS' VOTE

State Electoral College Meet and Cast Unanimous Vote for Taft and Sherman.

Springfield, Jan. 11.—The electoral college of Illinois met at noon to day and cast a unanimous vote for Taft and Sherman. In view of the undivided fear of battle waging in the legislature might extend itself to electors, personal representatives of the president-elect were upon the ground in case of emergency to see that things were carried out in proper form so as not to endanger Illinois' twenty-seven votes in the national college, which will meet in Washington on March 4.

Not in many years has the meeting of electors been watched so carefully by outside influences. Postmaster Daniel A. Campbell of Chicago, watched the proceedings from a seat in the rear of the room and heaved a sigh of relief when the work of the college had been completed without a hitch. The honor of acting as messenger fell to Winfield Scott Atkinson of Gardena.

BRIBERY RUMORS.

Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—Rumors of attempted bribery in connection with the contest for the United States senatorship are under investigation by Elliott R. Hooton, prosecuting attorney of Marion county. It is reported to Hooton today that two legislators had been approached by the representative of one of the senatorial candidates. He promised a grand jury investigation should developments warrant.

ON CHARGE OF WIFE ABANDONMENT.

Roy Sawyer of Bluffs Arrested in City Yesterday—Wanted in Scott County for Wife Abandonment—Sheriff Hogan of Winchester Will Take Him There Today.

After being absent from home since last June, Roy Sawyer was arrested Monday afternoon by Officer Tuttle on a charge of wife abandonment. Sawyer is a young fellow between 20 and 25 years of age, and after being arrested yesterday stated that he was the man that was wanted. When Officer Tuttle attempted to arrest him he ran up the alley next to Herman's store and there the officer caught him. He said that reason he left his wife was that he could not get along with her. Since leaving he has been working at various places and had been in Jacksonville about a week.

Sheriff Hogan of Winchester was communicated with by telephone last night and he will arrive in the city today and accompany Sawyer to the Capital of Scott county, where he will answer for the charge.

Sawyer and his wife resided on a farm west of Bluffs and have one child. Since his absence, she has been making her home with her parents.

Indulgent. "I have such an indulgent husband," said Mrs. Doll.

"Yes, so George says," responded Mrs. Spiteful. "Sometimes indulges a little too much, doesn't he?"—London Tit-Bits.

Sweeping. "That is a sweeping argument," remarked a husband whose wife used a broom to convince him that he ought to have been home several hours previously.

TWO BROKEN HEARTED WOMEN

MOTHER OF VICTIM AND WIFE OF MURDERER.

Fruits of Rev. J. H. Carmichael's Murderous Mania—Both Women Collapsed After Receipt of News From Carthage, Illinois.

Adair, Mich., Jan. 11.—There are two crushed, heartbroken women in this sensation-torn little village to night. They are Mrs. John H. Carmichael, the wife of the preacher-murderer, who committed suicide to day in Carthage, Ill., and Mrs. Browning, the mother of Gideon Browning, the victim of Carmichael's murderous mania.

Mrs. Carmichael, harrowed for six days by forebodings and uncertainty, was told soon after noon that her husband had been found, and before she had fairly grasped this news she was told he had died from his self-inflicted wounds.

The aged Mrs. Browning, sick at the home of her son-in-law here, heard the news of Carmichael's death and his strange confession.

Not only Adair village, but the entire countryside for twenty miles around is wild with excitement over to day's development in the Rattle Run murder mystery. Mrs. Carmichael is sick in bed to night at her home. The shock of to day's news after the strain she had endured since the crime was discovered was more than she could bear and for the first time she broke down. But she is still firm in the belief that her husband was insane when he killed Browning.

"I cannot imagine anything now, more than before, that would lead my husband to do such a thing. He was insane. I remember so well now. Just two weeks before the affair I remember of his complaints about trouble with his head. At that time he said he felt as if he were going crazy; that he was going to have more trouble. That, I believe, brought on his insanity."

"So this is the end of my twenty-five years of devotion. My husband dead and a suicide. Perhaps it is better so, but, Oh, my poor children. I can bear it for myself, but my son, my daughter and my little girl, what have they ever done to deserve all this?"

Prosecuting Attorney Brown, after he had received the news of Carmichael's suicide, came here this afternoon from Port Huron and had an interview with Mrs. Carmichael. After hearing Mrs. Carmichael repeat her statements to newspaper men earlier in the day, that she never knew of her husband studying mesmerism or hypnotism, Brown said that he is convinced the widow has withheld nothing she knows that could throw any light on the minister's action. Brown continued:

"Browning was a weak, simple minded man. I doubt if he even knew what rhytmism was. He certainly could not have exercised such an influence over Carmichael. I shall always believe there was a deep motive behind the crime."

After interviewing Mrs. Carmichael the prosecutor made another visit to the home of Browning and the latter's trunk was then opened for the first time since the murder. It contained nothing but some carpenter tools.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

We wish to call attention again to the change in the date of the next number on the Y. M. C. A. entertainment course. It has been mentioned in this paper several times, but it seems that many have not noticed the change. The bureau was not able to produce the lecturer as announced for some unexplainable reason and therefore the only available attraction they had, which, though costing much more than the lecturer, they very generously offered to substitute. The attraction is the Sterling Jubilee Singers and the change also carried with it a change of date. It will necessarily have to be given on Wednesday evening, but the hour will be changed to 8:30 in order to interfere as little as possible with the prayer meetings of the various churches. The Sterling Jubilee Singers are a company of 'sterling' worth. There is no better in the country and they will make a fine substitute and be sure to please the patrons of the course. The price of admission will be 50c to any part of the house not already sold to season ticket holders. Tickets for the balance of the season may be had for $1.50 for the best seats. This includes four numbers with the one Wednesday night. They are Sterling Jubilee Singers Jan. 13, Royal Hungarian Orchestra Jan. 21, Katharine Ridgway Feb. 17 and Governor Hoch March 15.

Prof. Meek addressed a large audience of boys at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon. He gave a splendid address and the boys are still talking about it. Evangelist McIntosh addressed another large audience composed of men at the same hour. This meeting was held at the court house. Rev. Mr. McIntosh has left many friends in the city and he has been a very helpful factor in the lives of many by his work in the church and the association. He will be welcome any time he wishes to return. His address yesterday afternoon was to the members of the Every Day in The Year club in particular and was on the subject "How to Read the Bible." A free will offering of $6.36 cents was given to him at the court house. Announcement was made at the opening of the Men's Bible classes at the Y. M. C. A. and quite a number left their names for members of the classes. Friday evening will be bible study evening at the association. All bible classes but one will be held on that evening. The Ladies Auxiliary will provide luncheon at 6:15 for all who desire the classes will dine together and separate to the various class rooms at 7 o'clock. The classes closing at 7:30 promptly. An effort will be made to enroll three hundred in bible study.

GRACE CHURCH SOCIAL.

Meeting of Membership Will Take Place Next Friday Evening.

At the services of Grace church Sunday, special announcement was made of the social for the entire membership, which is to be held in the church parlors on Friday night, Jan. 15. The event is under the auspices of the official board of the church, who will use the occasion as an opportunity to lay more adequately before the whole congregation their plans and hopes under their proposed efforts for a new church. Both the finance and building committees have been making some preliminary investigations in order to report intelligently upon this occasion, and their messages are expected to show both the entire feasibility of early success and some encouraging factors in the problem. Aside from these reports the gathering of Friday night will be wholly social in character, with music, refreshments, etc. The attendance at Grace church was good Sunday, despite the weather, and five persons were received into membership during the day, being three by letter and two by confession.

DOUBLE ANNIVERSARY.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mathis and Mr. and Mrs. George E. Sybrant celebrated their respective weddings at the pleasant home of the former on Diamond Court. It was the 25th for the host and hostess and the 30th for the guests, and they also had the pleasure of entertaining Mr. and Mrs. George T. Douglas, the latter a sister of Mrs. Mathis and Mr. Sybrant. Mrs. John Sybrant, parents of George Sybrant, Mrs. Mathis and Mrs. Douglas, were unable to be present on account of the inclemency of the weather. It was a quiet family affair with no outside guests, but it is an event, the celebration of which, only sickness has prevented during the past quarter of a century. No people in the city are more respected than the three families represented at the little affair mentioned and it is the wish of a host of friends that many more similar anniversaries may be celebrated.

DEER IN CENTRAL PARK.

If we had to depend on our memories for the record of insignificant circumstances we should be sadly at sea. There is no use arguing with a mother when she decides the date of any event by the date of her child's birth, but there are many things in this world of less consequence. An amusing instance of this has recently been noted over the question whether there were ever any tame deer in Central park in this city or not. There are many gentlemen in Jacksonville who have lived here constantly more than forty years, who are positive there were never any there, while on the other hand there are some who are equally positive there were. Some time between 1871 and '76, an iron fence was erected around the park and one summer, for a few weeks, there was at least one deer there. The writer was at that time in business on the south side of the square and can testify to the fact. He is not sure there were any more, but he can say without question that there was at least one there for a few weeks at least. Another gentleman equally well qualified to speak, says he is certain there were several deer in the park for a while. Prof. Sanders had a small place of ground inclosed in a high board fence about where Gay's hardware store is now and in that he had two deer for a while. The Journal would like to hear from any persons who have distinct recollections on this subject: how many deer can they recall seeing in central park and what year?

FROM THE SUNNY SOUTH.

Eureka Springs, Ark., Jan. 19, '09.

Editor Journal:

We receive the Journal each week and enjoy it as a letter from home. Ever since we have been down here, about three weeks, the weather has been very pleasant. Last week I saw a boy going around barefoot and I am walking around in my shirt-sleeves this morning, as the thermometer shows 52 above zero. They have here the finest water I ever drank and they have fine bath houses. John Read of Jacksonville owns one. There are a good many Illinois people here, among them Sol Bull, Champion Ferguson, Ed Harris and family, John McGinnis' cousin, Shelt Wright's sister, Mrs. Severs. I was at an Illinois dinner Christmas and there were 130 present. I attended a big oyster supper Wednesday night; it was given by the Masonic fraternity. Things are about as cheap here as at home. Board is from $5.00 to $7.00 a week and room $6.00 to $10.00 a month. On the side of the West Mountain the people are friendly and nice. I like it fine here; it is a nice place to winter.

A QUESTION OF LEGALITY.

As was stated in the report of the last meeting of the board of education on Miss Doyle resigned as teacher in the third ward and Member Clampt appointed Miss Brough, then teaching in Michigan, and who resigned there to come to this place. At the meeting of the board Dr. Clampt reported that he understood he had the sanction of a majority of the board for his action, having called them up by telephone and consulted them on the subject. At the meeting in question Mrs. Parsons recommended Miss Florence English, a teacher who had a position in Nebraska, as the Journal remembers, and it being put to vote Miss English received two votes and Miss Brough one and it was decided by friends of Miss English that she was duly and legally elected and she was sent for and has arrived for the duties of the position, Miss Brough having meanwhile vacated, giving place to a substitute teacher, for the time being. Now arises a question of legality. Should Miss English have a majority of the board, considering the mayor as a member? The question has not been settled and neither Miss English nor Miss Brough is at present teaching.

Tom, Dick and Harry.

"Some folks have a hard time to find odd enough names for their children," said a man in an uptown club the other evening. "They will search through all kinds of books on the subject, consult all their friends and relatives and finally burden the youngster with something never heard of before."

"I know one man, however—he is a banker and lives on West End avenue—who, while he did not spend much time in search of names, adopted a scheme which is very novel. It took five years to carry out the scheme, now complete. The first boy he named Tom, the second Dick and the third Harry. This particular trio is about as much talked about in the neighborhood as the three men who were once in the city."

Uncle Billy, a venerable servant, was proud of having once gone fishing with President Cleveland. Some one asked him one day, "How did you come out, Uncle Billy?"

"Well, when we war up in West Virginia last spring, the president he says to Dan Lamont and I, 'Us free, we'll go fishing and go in cahoots.' Well, we gets eighteen fish."

"How did the president divide?"

"Well, Marse President, he takes eighteen fish and Lamont he takes the rest."

"And what did you get, Uncle Billy?"

"I dno," scratching his head; then brightened up and said: "I-I-I reckon I got the caboots."

LARGE REAL ESTATE SALE

The Agency of B. R. Upham Sells the Late Lamb Farm of 320 Acres for $47,680.

Nearly every person in the west part of the city and some in the east know of the late Lamb farm near Markham. The tract comprises 320 acres of fine land, mostly level prairie, and is one of the most valuable in the county. It was bought of the Lamb estate a few years since by Henry B. Rankin and daughter, Mrs. Barber, both of Springfield, and Mrs. Frank Robertson of this city.

Since that time they have rented it on good terms and have also improved the land and made the farm somewhat more valuable than it was when they bought it. Through the agency of B. R. Upham, the farm was sold a day or two since to Henry and Louis Perich of the vicinity of Chapin at $149 an acre, the farm bringing $47,680.

TO THE PUBLIC.

In the article of Mr. J. O. Obermeyer, published in Sunday morning's Journal, he assumes, without authority, that I objected to his bill for chemicals on account of extortion. It is true his statement called for 2 oz. of potassium costing $4.00. It is also true there are over fifty different kinds of potassium on the market, some of which cost from five cents to $1.70 per oz., while others cost from 16 cents to $2.40 per lb.

The chemical department at the high school uses several different kinds of potassium and owing to the vast difference in the cost, it is very important that the druggist be asked to specify on his bill whether he furnished metal, iodide, chlorate, bromide, bicarbonate or other kinds of potassium, that the board may know what they are getting and how much they are paying for it.

"TOP O' TH' WORLD."

"The Top O' th' World," which tipped its way into town, recorded the biggest popular hit that "The Majestic" has sheltered since "The Wizard of Oz." It contains three times as much fun as "The Babes in Toyland." It has a clever book, witty lyrics with catchy tunes and a galaxy of clever artists.

There were more laughs uncoiled in one act of "The Top O' Th' World" than you can hear in all the other musical shows in town. A piece as genuinely merry and clever as this one is a boon and a delight!—Acton Davies, in New York Evening Sun. Grand Friday night.

CRYING FOR HELP.

Lots of it in Jacksonville, But Daily Growing Less.

The kidneys cry for help.

Not an organ in the whole body so delicately constructed.

Not one so important to health.

The kidneys are the filters of the blood.

When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous.

There can be no health where there is poisoned blood.

Backache is one of the first indications of kidney trouble.

It is the kidneys' cry for help.

Heed it.

Doan's Kidney Pills are what is wanted.

Are just what overworked kidneys need.

They strengthen and invigorate the kidneys; help them to do their work; never fail to cure any case of kidney disease.

Read the proof from a Jacksonville citizen:

George W. Siegfried, living at 321 E. Monroe street, Jacksonville, Ill., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in my family with very satisfactory results. I do not hesitate to recommend them to the public as they are certainly all that is claimed for them."

TIME

Is the One Principal Item in

FIRE FIGHTING

The best fire department on earth is SOMETIMES slow in reaching a fire and making connections. The BEST water system is SOMETIMES short of pressure. In Jacksonville, buildings within three blocks of the engine house have burned down, that might have been saved with 25c worth of chemicals, one charge from a hand extinguisher.

Chemical Extinguishers are NEVER slow and their pressure is NEVER uncertain. They throw a 50 foot stream that no fire can resist. They put it WHERE it is needed, WHEN it is needed, AS it is needed. They are never in some other part of the city, fighting somebody else's fire, when YOU need them.

The TIME to provide them is BEFORE you have a fire, and before you forget all about it again—NOW—for instance.

DEATH RECORD*Springer.

Mrs. John N. Ward received a telegram Monday, announcing the death of Mrs. John T. Springer of this city, who passed away in Denver, at the home of her son, Mr. John W. Springer. Mr. and Mrs. Springer went to Denver a few weeks ago for an extended visit and for the benefit of Mrs. Springer's health. No particulars have been received, but the supposition of relative here is that her demise was quite sudden. Mrs. Springer also has a daughter, Mrs. E. M. Kinnan, formerly of Jacksonville, but who has resided in Denver in recent years.

The decedent's maiden name was Sarah Henderson and she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cary Henderson, one of the well known early residents of Jacksonville.

Mrs. Henderson was married in the early fifties to Mr. John T. Springer and for many years their home has been at 516 Jordan street. She is survived by her husband and the son and daughter in Denver. One daughter, Lulu C. died some years ago.

Funeral services will be held in Denver and the remains will be placed in a vault until spring, when they will be brought to this city.

Stribbling.

Mrs. I. M. Stribbling, who had been visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harriett Clark at El Paso, Texas, died at that place last Friday. Mrs. Stribbling was 70 years of age and had been in delicate health for some time. The body did not arrive until Monday night at 5 o'clock and the funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Genders.

Word was received Monday evening of the death of Rev. Henry Genders who passed away in a hospital in Peoria.

Mr. Genders formerly preached at the Antioch church, east of the city, and recently had charge of a church in Farmer City. He is survived by his wife. The remains were taken to Ontario, Canada, for burial.

ZERO WEATHER AND SNOW.

The weather changed Sunday night and Monday was a raw day. About 2:30 a heavy snow began to fall and by midnight two inches of "The Beautiful" covered the ground, the heaviest snow of the season. At 2 o'clock this (Tuesday) morning the thermometer registered 6 above zero.

COLLEGE HILL CLUB.

The College Hill club held an open meeting Monday afternoon at the Woman's college. The program was one of rare interest and was enjoyed not only by the members, but a large number of invited guests. Few literary clubs in the city hold more profitable or enjoyable meetings than this well known literary organization, whose work has been of a high character since its organization.

WERE ROYALLY ENTERTAINED

"Good Will Circle" Class of Grace M. E. Church Hostess to Members of "Non-Chameleon" Class of the Home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lambert, Monday Evening.

It was indeed a merry crowd of young folks that met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Lambert on West State street, Monday evening, the occasion being in honor of the "Non-Chameleons," the Sunday school class of Mrs. J. C. Nate, of Grace M. E. church, with the Sunday school class of girls of Mrs. E. C. Lambert called the "Good Will Circle" as hostess. Ample preparations had been made by the young ladies for the entertainment of the young men and seldom has an evening afforded more pleasure. The two classes, comprising about fifty members in all and they are a great factor for moral power and influence in Grace church and their interest in Sunday school work is very marked.

Progressive games afforded part of the amusement in the way of entertainment, hand painted cards containing chameleons being used. The gentlemen's prize of an "onion" was won by Earl Waters and the ladies' prize by Miss Eleanor Capps, a "sweet pickle."

There was also a program carried out that for real entertainment was hard to beat. Each performer appeared to such good advantage and entered into the occasion with such earnestness that encores were numerous. The following was the program:

Solo—Emily Brown.
Reading, "A Fat Hen"—Millicent Rowe.

Piano solo—Nell Smith.
Duet, "Imitation of a Steam Calliope"—Earl Waters and Wilbur Jeffries.

Vocal solo, "Capt. Willie Brown"—Carrie DeButts.

Reading, "A Vaudeville Show"—Catherine Yates.

Chalk Talk, "How to Keep From Being an Old Maid"—Lillian Davis.
"Home Sweet Home"—Eleanor Capps.

For the feast of good things to eat ten tables had been arranged, each appropriately decorated and the menu served consisted of escalloped oysters, hot rolls, olives, pickles, orange ice and tribly sticks.

Those who assisted in the entertainment were Mrs. E. C. Lambert, Mrs. J. C. Nate, Miss Kathryn Greenleaf, Miss Helen Lambert, Miss Louise Short and Mrs. A. T. Capps.

IN HONOR OF DEPARTING PASTOR

Congregation of Salem Lutheran Evangelical Church Presented Pastor With Gold Watch and Chain at a Surprise Given Monday Evening at the Church.

The Salem Lutheran congregation by way of surprise to their departing pastor, honored him with a farewell service in the church Monday evening.

At 7:30 o'clock, the elders, headed by Rev. F. Berg of Beardstown, accompanied the pastor and family to the church, where the congregation awaited them. After the singing of a hymn, Rev. F. Berg spoke in behalf of the congregation, words appropriate to the occasion, whereupon the choir sang. After the singing of another hymn by the congregation, Rev. Berg, in behalf of the members, presented the pastor with a fine gold watch and gold fob. Inside the case of the watch was the inscription: "A token of love to H. Hallerberg, from the Evangelical Lutheran congregation, 1-11-09, Jacksonville, Ill." The pastor then responded with words of thanks, after which the choir sang, "God be With You Till We Meet Again." The congregation then bade the pastor farewell.

Rev. Mr. Hallerberg has been pastor of the church for almost five years and since his stay here has made a host of friends, who regret to see him and his estimable wife leave, but will wish them an abundance of success in their new work at Arlington, Neb., where they go Friday.

"Chance."

When you talk of chance you are only confessing ignorance. The very spin of the coin is governed by the nerve, muscle or manipulation of the thumb and brain that spin it. The only chance about it is your ignorance of the forces that lift, twist and catch the coin. If you could calculate the physical and mental forces between the unipennary's leap and return you might buy the world. But you can't. And it's just that bit of blindness that we have to call chance.—London Chronicle.

Chinese and Europeans.

Europe knew next to nothing of China or its people prior to the conquests of the famous Genghis Khan. The commotion raised by that monster made Europeans somewhat acquainted with "Far Cathay," as China was then called. It was about the year 1300, or possibly a trifle earlier, that the first Chinese made their appearance in Europe. The first commercial intercourse between Europe and China dates from about the year 1320.—New York American.

CENTRAL HOSPITAL

Some Excellent Work Being Done for the Unfortunate, Especially Those Suffering From Tuberculosis

A recent visit by a Journal reporter at the Central Hospital for the Insane disclosed some interesting facts. Calling on the efficient superintendent, Dr. Carriel, the writer was courteously received and shown about the establishment as he desired.

First a visit was paid to the new building being erected for the special care of those afflicted with tuberculosis, and here it may be remarked that the hospital at this place has by far the lowest percentage of patients afflicted with this disease than any similar enterprise in the state. The latest decision of the best medical authorities is that it is well to have the patients live out of doors as nearly as possible and to this end the new structure has been made. It is one story, of wood, 208 feet long by 35 wide and capable of accommodating forty patients, twenty of each sex, and the sleeping rooms are so arranged that the occupants are practically in the open air with a roof over them, though in inclement weather the apartments may be inclosed. At each end is a pleasant sitting room with fireplace, a large dining room with partition through the center to separate the sexes, a pantry, bath rooms and water closets and all complete except kitchen, there being no need for this, as the cooked food will be brought from the infirmary kitchen near by. The interior of the building will be finished with hard white plaster and carbolic floor, bug proof and fireproof, and cemented on the outside. In front there will be an inclosure in which will be shade, seats, flower beds and everything possible to make the place pleasant and attractive, and to induce the patients to spend as much time out of doors or on the wide veranda of the building as possible. The affair speaks well for Superintendent Carriel and shows he is always awake to the best means for conducting the great enterprise committed to his care.

Passing on to the nearest building the reporter found himself in the infirmary in the lower story of which the sick and infirm male patients are cared for. Each heart knows its own bitterness and each soul its weight of sorrow and sometimes it seems almost too great to bear, but a visit to this place will disclose to many something which will make them thankful for the mercies they have. Clean beds, comfortable, airy rooms and all possible appliances for comfort are provided, but after all the lot is a hard one, though generally the patients seemed cheerful as far as they were capable of showing emotion of any kind. Some were quite old, the oldest past 80, and he seemed to be happy enough. For all who could understand it the doctor had a kind word and the poor creatures were pleased by it.

Ascending the stairway to the second story a scene just the opposite presented itself. Here are sent the women who are mentally convalescent and likely to go home in the somewhat near future. They are little kept in, are supplied with pleasant occupations, sewing, basket work, needle work and anything that suits them, are often taken to walk and ride and to the city shopping so that when the time comes for their return home they may not go from a room in the main building, but with pleasant recollections of the place at which they have been staying, which is certainly a good thing.

A few other features of the great establishment were observed, though nothing like a complete inspection of the plant was attempted. In the boiler house were three huge water tube boilers supplying heat and power to the entire plant, annex on the north, and all. This saves the cost of maintaining a separate plant at the annex. There are three other boilers, one or more of which may be called into use if needed. In an adjacent room is a dynamo, which supplies power all over the place and lights in the daytime. A second is set going for light early in the evening, but after eleven p. m., the one supplies all the light for all the buildings.

In the bakery the huge ovens were filled with savory bread, which was being turned out for consumption by the almost two thousand people to be fed. A complete renovation and reconstruction of the laundry are under way and when finished will prove a great advantage. A bowling alley supplies amusement of a pleasing kind and one which gives excellent exercise of a healthful and entertaining nature. A large addition is being constructed to accommodate the sick and the acutely disturbed patients and in another part are being constructed facilities for better and more complete hydro-therapeutic treatment, or in plainer English, heating or treatment with water in various ways. A light, airy room supplied with piano, reading matter, tables and the like, is a pleasant place to which attendants may go for the enjoyment of leisure hours. There too are seats and a rostrum where are facilities for the training school.

A hasty walk through the kitchen disclosed pleasant odors of dinner being prepared and there a novel machine was shown the reporter. It was no less than a patent potato waver calculated to take the skin off half a bushel of tubers in a few moments and so economically as to pay for itself in a little while. The vegetables are placed in a metal tub holding something like a bushel and a half or two bushels, a stream of water is turned on, the tub, which has a rough interior, is rapidly revolved and in a few minutes the thing outside is removed and the potatoes are clean and ready for use. Pelling them with a knife loses at least ten per cent of the article, but in this way nothing is lost.

Of course there were hundreds of things left unseen but those mentioned were interesting and worth noting.

The Omelette Weighs of a Hat Propagates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair, yet if the soles of these same men become infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the while for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbros Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. DR. CRANE TO LIVE IN WEST.

Former Illinois Methodist Minister Has Resigned Eastern Rectory.

Bloomington, Jan. 9.—Many here are interested in the resignation of Rev. Dr. Frank Crane from the pastorate of the Worcester (Mass.) Union Congregational church, because of his former service as pastor of the First Methodist church here. He has been located in Worcester seven years, having come from here to Chicago and thence to Worcester. He is a native of Urbana.

Dr. Crane tendered his resignation to take effect Sept. 1, at the end of his seven years' pastorate, at an annual reunion service and dinner. It astounded his three hundred parishioners.

Recently Dr. Crane made a visit to the University of Chicago, where he lectured and preached for three Sundays and the week day intervening. The Worcester people think he is considering a call here, but this he denies, stating merely that his health demands a change. It is intimated that his home will be in the west.

SUNDAY AT SPOKANE

(From Spokane Spokesman-Review of Jan. 7.)

One moment upon a chair, waving his arms out over the audience, the next instant down on the press table, leaning over to shake hands with some one who had answered his call. Billy Sunday last night urged his hearers to come forward and declare themselves Christians.

In and out among the crowd hurried the ministers from their seats on the platform, the choir members from their chairs in the rear; Assistants Pledger, Butler and Seibert ran up and down the aisles, urging men and women to come to the front; what was left of the choir sang "Just as I Am" and "I Am Coming, Lord;" ushers chased the kids out of the front seats they have always occupied; secretaries with cards and pencils in hand, went among the converts to record their names—and when the dust cleared away there were 52 men, women and children in the front seats and Billy Sunday's first real skirmish was ended.

Converts Quick to Respond.

It is not likely that many people of the 4,500 or so in the tabernacle last night expected that the evangelist would issue his call, but when he began his prayer after the sermon on "Backsliders" they began to get ready and when he issued the call for workers to go among the people and bring them forward, the response was rapid.

Everybody stood, singing, "Just as I Am." The first two converts, Joe Healey and S. A. Choate, plainly-carbed working men, came first, shaking hands with Sunday, who bent over the platform to reach them. "I'm mighty glad to see you here," from the preacher, and they sat in the front row with their heads in their hands while seats beside them filled up.

Next from the choir came a girl, weeping, with her handkerchief held before her face. During the entire last part of the service she ever lifted her head or showed her face. A mother and her small boy took their places beside them.

Converts Led to Platform.

From the choir came many at first, then the greater number was from the audience. Men and women came to the platform leading converts by the arm. Mothers brought their children and young men came in twos and threes. C. P. Pledger, Sunday's assistant, flitted from bench to bench like a dicky-bird on the limbs of a tree, shaking hands with one, seating another, encouraging an undecided man to come. Fred Seibert, actively and seriously, fairly ran from one end of the building to the other.

Among the occupants of the front rows was a good scattering of red ushers' badges and the white ribbons of the choir, young men predominating. Hurry and bustle were in the air. "Don't stand in the aisles, let those people come along," cried Sunday, waving invitation to those further back.

"Just another verse, hurry now," he directed the choir, and when the last verse was sung, Sunday stood on a chair and made a little talk to the converts.

"Don't keep your faith hid; treat God on the square and do what he tells you to do," is the essence of his brief spiritual advice, and then, still on the chair, he led them in reciting the sentence, "I accept Jesus Christ as my savior." Then the secretaries took down the names of every one, and that was all the ceremony there was to it.

FAKE BOMB FOR PEORIA MAYOR

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 9.—When Mayor Thomas O'Connor entered his office Thursday he was alarmed at finding a bomb with a lighted fuse attached lying on his desk. The fuse was extinguished by dashing the bomb into a pail of water. An investigation proved the thing to be harmless. The mayor is a Democrat and an enthusiastic Republican meeting held the previous evening is thought to have inspired some crank to place the bomb in the mayor's office as a sinister warning.

In Vain!

"In vain, in vain!" cried the young man distractedly. His hair fell in long wisps about his brows, and his countenance was deathly white. The crowd pressed close. "In vain, in vain!" he cried again, with wringing of hands and gnashing of teeth. "What?" cried the crowd. "What is in vain?" "The letter 'v'!" cried the young man as he escaped.

ISHMAELS OF CEYLON.

The Rodrigues, a Curious Tribe of Social Outcasts.

There is a curious tribe of people in Ceylon called the Rodrigues, who live the life of social Ishmaels, despised and cast out by their fellows. Until quite recently they lived apart from the abodes of other men, in holes and caves. In no case may they lie down to rest with other men. They may not enter a temple or a court of justice and on all occasions are compelled to "stand afar off." So low down in the scale of humanity are they placed that they may not even speak with strangers except through the intermediary of a man of the lowest caste above their own. Of late years their status has been improved, and they are less servile in consequence, but even now they fall on their knees with uplifted hands to address people of the lowest recognized caste, and upon the approach of a traveler they shout to warn him to stop until they can get off the road and he can pass without risk of defilement from the proximity of their persons. It is curious and yet so characteristic of society in all countries and all levels that even among these people, who seem to have reached the very lowest rung of the human ladder, there are classes and social distinctions. Thus the ambetteyes, or barbers, and the hammoreyes, or betel box makers, are looked upon with contempt by the despised, ostracized Rodrigues, who go to the length of shutting up their dogs lest they should stray into the houses of the lowborn or quav a bone that they may throw at them.—Dundee Advertiser.

THE COCKET WRITERS.

What Happened When England Abolished Their Offices.

In the long room of the London custom house years ago were twelve officers styled "cocket writers." They wrote certificates that goods had been duly entered and the duties paid. They were also known as patent officers because appointed for life by letters patent from the crown. Their salaries were nominal, £30 a year, but they were permitted to remunerate themselves by extorting fees from the merchants—fees which in some cases amounted to a thousand pounds a year. In 1851 the treasury determined to abolish patent offices and called upon the twelve cocket writers to furnish a statement of their emoluments. The officers, ignorant of the treasury's purpose, imagined that the government intended to impose an income tax. Ten of the writers, therefore, returned a statement which understated their fees by several hundred pounds. The other two furnished an honest statement. In a few days ten clerks were surprised and disgusted and two clerks were astonished, but pleased. The treasury notified the cocket writers that their offices would be abolished and that they would be compensated by pensions rated according to the returns they had themselves furnished. There were gnashing of teeth and broad smiles in the long room. One of the two honest cocket writers enjoyed his pension for fifty-two years, during which time the treasury paid him £52,000.

Where Dollars Originated.

Joachimsthal, near Carlsbad, is historic as the birthplace of the original dollar. This was the silver gulden-groschen, coined in 1519 by order of Count Schlick from the metal of a recently opened mine, and it became known as the Joachimsthaler, or "thaler" alone for short. Before 1600 the humble English language had already made "dollar" of this. Therefore this name was loosely used of all manner of coins, varying in value from 75 cents to $1.25 and belonging to all manner of countries, from Sweden to Japan. It was from the prevalence of the Spanish "dollar" in the British-American colonies at the time of their revolt that the modern "almighty dollar" was derived, while in modern English very recent slang has given the name to the crown piece.

What It Was.

She was visiting a Chinese restaurant for the first time and had ordered, among other things, an omelet. After sampling the succulent chop suey and the appetizing chow mein she turned her attention to what seemed a dish of pancakes. Puzzling over the combination of ham, onion and other ingredients, she suddenly exclaimed to her companion, "Why, there's egg in this!" "Sure; it's the omelet," he replied.—New York Press.

Civilized Poverty.

Barbarism has no horrors so horrible as the bestial squalor and sheer misery of civilized poverty. Poverty is a great evil in any state, but the world has not known any poverty so foul, so brutal and so utterly loathsome as the poverty of the city slum, the sweat-laden, the pawnshop and the gin palace.—Clarion.

Happy School Days.

Tommy was about to leave the school where he had spent his first years. He went to the teacher to say goodby and added: "I am awfully sorry to leave this school. I had such good times at recess."—Lippincott's.

Encouraging.

The Sultor—Johnny, your parlor clock is an hour fast. The Kid Brother—I know it, but don't tell sister so. The Sultor—Why not? The Kid Brother—Because she thinks you don't know it.—Cleveland Leader.

"One swallow does not make a summer," it is true, but a hawk will often make one fall.—Falmouth.

Steam or Hot Water?

That is the Question

Right now is the time to figure on how you will heat your home this winter, or equip that NEW BATH ROOM. Our shop and fixtures are the best and cheapest in Central Illinois, and workmanship unequalled. Let us figure on the next job.

Irascible Von Bulow.

During Hans von Bulow's leadership of the orchestra at Hanover a toner of fame was engaged to play a star role in "Lohengrin," and while the singer was rehearsing his part Bulow was forced to go over the same bars a number of times without the new actor beginning to sing. Tired of his wasted efforts, the leader stopped the orchestra and angrily turned to the singer.

"I know that a tenor is proverbially stupid," he said, "but you seem to make an extensive use of this unwritten law."

At another time, while one of his grand intermezzi was being played with great feeling by his musicians, a peculiar noise, hardly perceptible by untrained ears, annoyed the leader for some little time. At first he thought it resembled the flutter of wings, but soon he discovered an elegant lady fanning herself in one of the boxes close by. Bulow kept on with his gestures, fixing his eyes on the offender in a manner which meant reproof. The lady, not heeding this, was suddenly surprised by the leader dropping his stick and turning toward her.

"Madam," he cried, "if you must, please at least keep time with your infernal nuisance!"

An Exception to the Rule.
"It is an invariable fact," said the professor at the club, "that the sense of sight travels more rapidly than the sense of sound. You will observe, sir, that when a bit of ordinance is fired from a fortress or a man-of-war you see the puff of smoke that comes coincidentally with the explosion several moments before you hear the report thereof. Thus it is always—"

"Not always," said little Todgers from the corner. "I know of a case where hearing antedates seeing by really considerable lapses of time."

"I know of no such thing in the whole-brood range of science," retorted the professor pompously. "Perhaps you are enlightening us, sir."

"Well," said Todgers, "it's the case of an Englishman and a joke. In almost every case the Englishman hears a joke about a week before he sees it, and—"

But the professor had gone, and they say that nowadays when he sees Todgers he shies off like a frisky horse in the presence of a motor car.—Harper's Weekly.

Waterproofing Matches.

Perhaps some of your readers would be interested to know that I have found a simple, inexpensive way to waterproof matches. Into some melted paraffin, care being taken that it was as cool as possible, I dipped a few ordinary matches. After withdrawing them and allowing them to cool it was found that they scratched almost as easily as before being coated with the wax. Several were held under water for six or seven hours, and all of them lighted as easily as before immersion. When the match is scratched the paraffin is first rubbed off and the match lights in the usual way. Matches treated as above would be very useful on camping or canoeing trips, as they do not absorb moisture. Since more rubbing is required to light them than the ordinary match, it would be practically impossible to set them on fire by accidental dropping.—Scientific American.

S.S.S. THE REMEDY FOR SORES AND ULCERS

The combination of healthful vegetable ingredients of which S. S. S. is composed, makes it an especially desirable and effective remedy in the treatment of sores and ulcers of every kind. Since an impure condition of the blood is responsible for the trouble, a medicine that can purify the blood is the only hope of a successful cure; and it should be a medicine that not only cleanses the circulation, but one that at the same time restores the blood to its normal, rich, nutritive condition. S. S. S. is just such a remedy. It is made entirely of healing, cleansing vegetable properties, extracted from nature's roots, herbs and barks of the forest and fields. It has long been recognized as the greatest of all blood purifiers, possessing the qualities necessary to remove every impurity in the blood. When S. S. S. has purified the circulation, and strengthened and enriched it, sores and ulcers heal readily and surely, because they are no longer fed and kept open by a continual discharge into them of irritating disease-laden matter from the blood. S. S. S. brings about a healthy condition of the flesh by supplying it with rich, nourishing blood and makes a permanent and lasting cure. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice mailed free to all who write.

BUSY DAY FOR FIRE DEPARTMENT

Three Calls Answered Monday and One Sunday—Chicken House Destroyed at Residence of Charles Reinhart.

Since the cold weather the fire department has been kept unusually busy for the first eleven days in January, have broken the record for alarms, but fortunately the majority of them have been of little loss to the parties.

An alarm was sent in at 3 o'clock
Sunday afternoon from the residence of Mrs. Mary McAvoy, 228 East North street, where escaping steam from a water heater frightened the residents. There was no damage.

At 8:30 o'clock Monday morning,
the department was called to the home of S. H. Larimore on East State street, on account of a burning fire. No damage.

At 10 o'clock Monday morning a fire was made to the residence of Charles Reinhart, 1056 North Payette street, property owned by George Rodriguez, where a chicken house was on fire; origin not known. The shed was 10 by 14 feet in size and was practically destroyed.

The department was called to the residence of Mrs. Elizabeth Hayden, 523 West State street, Monday evening at 7 o'clock, where a fire was burning out. No loss.

NO LIGHT OUTSIDE
CITY FIRE DISTRICT.

On Tuesday night and probably Wednesday night there will be no lights outside the city fire district on account of the wall between the boilers giving away at the plant. The repairs will be made as quickly as possible.

IMPROVEMENTS AT TRINITY CHURCH

Interior Redecorated and Lighting Facilities Changed From Gas to Electricity—Members are Grateful for Generosity of Mrs. Henry Stryker and Mrs. Thomas Worthington.

Sunday was an eventful day in the history of Trinity Episcopal church when it marked the rededication exercises of the interior decoration which has been in progress for several weeks. Redecoration of the walls and ceiling, new carpets, seat cushions upholstered and changing of the lighting facilities from gas to electricity are some of the improvements made. The day was also of special interest from the fact that Bishop Osborne of Springfield was present and preached both morning and evening. The bishop is a gifted divine and his discourses were strong presentations of the gospel teachings and large audiences were present at both services. There was also a service in the morning at 7:30 o'clock at which the rector, Rev. Herbert Mitchell, celebrated the holy communion. The 10:45 a. m. service consisted of a special choral offering with processional around the church and holy communion was also celebrated, while another choral service marked the evening worship.
The mural decorations are side walls of brown, with ceiling of cream color. The wood work has also been recolored and revarnished and the whole appearance is attractive and in excellent taste. The large gas chandeliers have been removed and brass wall brackets of electricity have taken their places, while there is an arch of incandescent lights inside the chancel railing that gives a very pretty effect.

The carpet is red and black and was the gift of Mrs. Henry Stryker, while the electric wall brackets were presented by Mrs. Thomas Worthington. The ensemble effect of the improvements that have been made commends itself in every particular and members of Trinity church are to be congratulated on the interior changes that have been made.

Broken lots of men's winter underwear at greatly reduced prices today. Frank Byrns' Hat store.

ATTORNEY NUTT HERE MONDAY.
Attorney Nutt of Springfield, will be here Monday on business connected with the cases of Messrs. George Ferreira, John Vieira and James Kelly.

It is understood that legal authority is sought to show that the county court lost jurisdiction in the above cases because of the fact that the sentences were not imposed at the original hearing. This new phase of the case will be watched with interest. In the extent that action is raised on a habeas corpus proceeding the matter will come before Judge Thompson in the circuit court.

vices of Mrs. I. M. Strubling, re-

In spite of the inclement weather a fair sized audience was present at the illustrated lecture at the Illinois College of Music Monday evening by Gilbert McClurg. Mr. McClurg gave the history and resources of Texas.
Moving pictures amused the audience
during the intermissions.
